November 2003

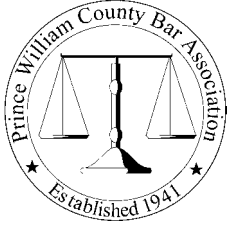

Presidents Message

By Gail Prentiss

It is hard to believe that Thanksgiving is right around the corner, beginning the annual holiday season which ends in a new year. This has been an amazing year for the PWCBA in terms of the number of projects undertaken for the benefit of its members and the community, and October was a particularly fruitful month. First, the PWCBA sponsored a free ethics CLE at the monthly membership meeting featuring Noel D. Sengel, Esq., Senior Assistant Bar Counsel for the Virginia State Bar. Ms. Sengel provided members with an overview of the VSB's disciplinary system and ten practical tips for avoiding Bar complaints. As an added bonus, the program counted toward the satisfaction of required ethics credits prior to the October deadline.

Next, on October 9th, the PWCBA sponsored its 2003 Candidates Forum. The forum was a public service project designed to heighten community awareness of the election process and to provide an opportunity to meet and evaluate the candidates in contested races. To that end, all candidates in contested races in the 29th, 31st, 36th, 39th and 52nd districts and the Prince William County Sheriff's race were given an opportunity to make introductory remarks. The format then turned to an issue oriented question and answer portion, during which time questions were posed by three distinguished panelists. This year's panel consisted of Betty Ann Blanton, (a fourth grade teacher at R.C. Hayden Elementary School, recipient of the 1997 Governor's Champion in Education award, and former winner of the Agnes Meyer Teacher of the Year award sponsored by the Washington Post); Miles Friedman (President of the National Association of State Development Agencies, and Chairman of the Prince William County Economic Development Council); and Sheryl Wolfe (Immediate Past President of the Loudoun County League of Women Voters). Their questions were thought-provoking on a wide range of relevant issues, and allowed viewers to compare and contrast the positions of the respective candidates. Comcast Studio 3 Productions provided video coverage for later broadcast, thus reaching an even wider audience. The forum was the most successful in the Bar's history of presenting this event, in terms of voter turn-out, and represented the culmination of a huge amount of effort by the members, the panelists, and, in particular, our Executive Director, Alissa Hudson. Their efforts once again demonstrated the commitment of the PWCBA to the community, and I was particularly proud to be involved in this forum on behalf of Bar.

In November, we are looking forward to judging the Bar's annual "Character Counts" Essay Contest for middle school students, and to the celebration of Pro Bono month, recognizing those members who donate their time and talents, ensuring access to legal representation for all. We are fortunate to have Circuit Court Judge Rossi D. Alston, Jr. , as our speaker on that subject for the November meeting. Please remember to RSVP! I look forward to seeing you there.

ACTS/Turning Points TRO Project Update

By Sherri Quinn, Victim Assistance Coordinator

Dear Members of the Prince William County Bar Association,

ACTS/ Turning Points would like to acknowledge your assistance to victims of domestic violence since 1997. We are proud to be in partnership with your association. In the past year you have represented 43 individuals. Some obtained protective orders while others found alternate solutions with the help of a pro bono attorney. When members of the community have turned their heads the other way, members of your association have stepped up to the plate and chosen to be part of the solution to this debilitating issue.

One of the recipients of your services would like to express her gratitude for the assistance she received. She applied for a preliminary protective order after the respondent pushed her down, jumped on top of her and attempted to strangle her. She made a call but hung up when he entered the room fearing his continued retaliation. In addition to the physical abuse, she feared being killed in front of her children. While his threats to kill her may seem like idle threats made in the heat of the moment, he did have a gun which he referred to in subtle ways after disagreements. After her daughter told an adult outside the family about the gun in the house it disappeared. (She believed he still had access to it.) Entering the courtroom without an attorney at her side would have been very difficult for her as a result of the control he exerted over her. Undoubtedly her memories of his isolation tactics - monitoring her trips to the store, checking the mileage on her car or checking the time on her receipt if he allowed her to walk to the store, etc. – would have clouded her ability to think clearly. Instead, her attorney was able to offer her a focal point when speaking to the judge.

Others haven’t been as fortunate in their journey. Consider the woman who is told by a member of the religious community not to leave her abusive spouse but to pray and to continue counseling with him. Or, consider the woman who is encouraged to take responsibility for transporting her alcoholic spouse even though he has broken her ribs. How the community responds to people may determine whether they reach out to others for help.

On behalf of the people like these who need your assistance I invite attorneys to consider helping 1-3 people per year so they won’t have to face their abuser alone. Please feel free to call me for information at #703-792-4782. For those of you, listed below, who have offered your time to those in crisis I would like to THANK YOU!

The Uncontested Divorce Project

By Naznin Saif, Managing Attorney
Prince William Branch,
Legal Services of Northern Virginia

The Uncontested Divorce Project, created to assist low-income residents of Prince William County, Manassas and Manassas Park in obtaining an uncontested divorce, is entering its third year of operation. The Project, a joint venture of the Prince William County Bar Association's Pro Bono Committee and Legal Services of Northern Virginia, has assisted 15 individuals in obtaining a divorce, and is in the process of helping 30 individuals with finalizing their divorces. During the past year, the Project has also undergone several changes in order to better assist the individuals involved. These changes include the collection of the necessary fees by LSNV prior to the individual's case being assigned to a Pro Bono attorney and the refinement of the pleadings to be filed with the Court.

An individual seeking an uncontested divorce is initially screened by LSNV staff to ensure that the applicant is financially eligible for services. Once an individual is found eligible for the Project, the person is sent a questionnaire to complete prior to meeting with the Project's coordinator. At the meeting, the applicant's questionnaire is reviewed in order to ensure that there are no outstanding issues to be resolved, such as custody or child support. Once this second screening process is complete and the individual has paid all the necessary fees to LSNV, the case is assigned to a Pro Bono attorney.

The Uncontested Divorce Project has been, and continues to be, a success because of the involvement of attorneys and other legal professionals within this community who give their time and energy to assist those who do not have the means to obtain a divorce on their own. LSNV would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank the Prince William County Bar Association, the Pro Bono Committee, the Prince William County Association of Legal Professionals and the attorneys who serve as commissioners for their continued support and dedication to this Project. The attorneys who participated in the Project during 2002-2003 were:

Ralph Coon	Robert Cooper	Cathy Croft
Kathleen Farrell	Robert Gregory	Shelby Hadfield
J. Douglas Lewis	Paul McDermott	Donna McIntosh
E. Allen Newcomb	John Primeau	Lawrie Rollison
Barbara Stough	Tim Szabo	Elaine Trautwein
Richard Vogel	Rick Wheeler	John Whittington

CLE Update

Editor's Note: The annual CLE survey is enclosed, through which the bar solicits input from the membership on topics to consider for future educational presentations. The survey also provides a place for members to indicate their willingness to serve as a presenter. Please take a moment to complete the survey, and fax the results to the bar office at (703) 331-5683. Please also consider serving on the CLE committee. While the task of organizing and scheduling CLEs has been handled deftly by Cathy Croft for the past two years, she needs volunteers to staff the registration desk for each CLE. This monthly commitment can easily be shared by three to four volunteers over the course of a calendar year. Please call Cathy today if you are willing to help.

The Prince William County Bar has no CLEs scheduled for November or December 2003. In January 2004, we begin the new year with Personal Injury 101 on January 16 by Tracy Hudson and John Whittington, Bankruptcy on January 23 by Ray Pring, Mediation on February 20 by Philip Mulford and Lexis Nexis training on April 16 by Robert Davis, the Prince William County Public Law Librarian.

There are no local CLEs scheduled by the Alexandria, Arlington or Fairfax bar associations for the month of November.

Judicial Evaluations

By Kevin Childers

Prince William County Selected for Judicial Evaluation Pilot Program

The Supreme Court of Virginia Judicial Evaluation Committee has selected Prince William County to take part in its Pilot Program. The purpose of the Pilot Program is to test and refine the Judicial Evaluation questionnaires and other processes that are expected to go into place state-wide in 2004.

It is not yet known which of the three Prince William County courts will be selected to participate in the program. However, it is possible that the Pilot Program questionnaires may go out to Prince William County attorneys simultaneously with the Prince William County Bar Association Judicial Evaluation questionnaires. If you receive two questionnaires for certain judges, please answer both and return them to their respective sources.

The PWCBA intends to continue with its own Judicial Evaluation program until such time as the state-wide program can be reviewed and assessed.

The Pro bono Attorney of the Year Award

Each year the Pro bono Committee seeks to determine whether and to whom to award the annual Pro bono Attorney of the Year Award. This award was established to recognize, on behalf of the PWCBA, an individual who has made significant contributions to the community either by way of organizing/administering pro bono legal programs or by providing direct pro bono legal services.

Nominations are now being accepted, and may be made either on the enclosed form or by typewritten letter, to Rusty von Keller, Chair, Pro bono Committee, 9254 Center Street, Manassas, VA 20110. The winner will be announced at the Annual Dinner Dance, which is held in February of each year.

The following criteria will be used by the committee when considering nominees:

- Demonstrated dedication to the development and delivery of pro bono legal services in the Commonwealth of Virginia
- Contributed significantly toward the development of innovative approaches to the delivery of volunteer legal services
- Participated in an activity that resulted in satisfying previously unmet needs for legal services or in extending services to under-served segments of the population
- Successfully handled pro bono cases on behalf of the poor
- Devoted significant time to furthering the delivery of legal services to the poor in Virginia by handling pro bono matters

The nominee must be a practicing member of the Prince William County Bar Association. Persons whose livelihood is derived from delivering legal services to the poor are not eligible.
